

Stick to a routine.

Teachers and parents know that kids need structure. That's why classroom rules and home rules are so important. As the first day of kindergarten approaches, practice a morning routine and make sure your child gets enough sleep.